OLDEST INHABITANTS AT ALTON FARM.

Oldest Inhabitants to Visit Alton Farm July 4 Each Year.

ACCEPT THE INVITATION

Extended Them by Mr. Crosby Noyes Wednesday Last.

LATE AFTERNOON EXERCISES

Address of Gen. John M. Wilson in Presentation of Loving Cup to Mr. Noyes.

Filled with pleasant memories of a day well spent, the members of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association of the District of Columbia are already anticipating another glorious Fourth at Alton Farm, the country seat of Crosby S. Noyes, a year hence, for Mr. Noves stated at the close of the celebration Wednesday that he wanted them to be his guests each recurring Independence day as long as he lives. After The Star's report of the patriotic observance of the Fourth at Alton Farm closed Wednesday there were many features of interest in the entertainment offered the three hundred guests of Mr. Noyes. A tentative program had been prepared for the afternoon, but in addition to the scheduled numbers there was a number of impromptu offerings in song and story, so hat the day was filled even to the very hour of departure.

Immediately after the recess allison Nailor, jr., president of the association, called upon Master Allen Peter of Kensington, Md., for a recitation, and the little lad's rendition of the patriotic selection, "The American Flag," earned for him a generous round of applause. Not a whit less well received was the recitation of redericktown," and at the conclusion he encore, and after singing "To Thee, O Country," they sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginnie." The Glee Club includes the following songsters: B. W. Beebe, William G. Penny, D. M. Maclean, John H. Hunter, John L. Houchin, George B. Rose, George P. Tucker, H. F. Smith, Louis P. Seibold, R. G. Gardner, Henry Nolda, George W. Trowbridge, George M. Taylor, A. A. Rowley, A. H. Frear, William F. Dorsey and Eleanor B. Spencer, accompanist.

"Comrade" Sam Cross was next called by the presiding officer, and after recounting the historic occurrences closely following the "Boston Tea Party," he sang "The Sword of Bunker Hill," and to the demand for another song he responded with the humorous "Lucky Jim." Two additional songs were sung by the Burnside Post Glee Club—"American Volkslied" and "The Boys of the Old Brigade"—and the afternoon's entertainment closed by the audience rising and singing, under the leadership of Mr. Fred Calvert, "Auld Lang Syne." At 4 o'clock all the guests were conveyed to Sligo station and the special cars brought them back to the city.

Perhaps no feature of the day's entertainment was more generally discussed by the returning guests on their way home in the cars than was the tribute paid to Mr. Crosby S. Noyes by Gen. John M. Wilson, U. S. A., retired, when he presented the association's loving cup to the host. So many of the oldest inhabitants expressed the wish to secure verbatim copies of the address, and so many requests were made that it be printed entire, that Gen. Wilson was asked for the copy, and the speech is given in full below.

Gen. Wilson's Address. The general said:

'Mr. Noyes, Ladies and Gentlemen: "The poverty of language is never more impressively felt than when one finds himself selected to present a token of affection to one like your own dear self, who combines all the attributes of true Christian manhood with all the characteristics of the able, honorable, noble, highminded and accomplished gentleman.

"When the Association of the Oldest Inhabitants so highly honored me with the invitation to assume this delicate but pleasant duty, I told my friends not to expect the eloquence of our beloved companion, Mr. Ross Perry, not to look for well-rounded phrases, but that I would come to you, not as an orator, but as a soldier devoted to his profession, his country; to this, his native city, and to the flag he had followed for over a halfcentury; and that, in my own feeble way, I would try to tell you how completely you had won the respect, teem and love of us all. admiration, es-

Motto of the Age.

"The motto of this age has well been said to be 'the brotherhood of man,' and when I think of the wonderful results of your well-spent life, there comes to me those glowing words of Leigh Hunt, that so well describe it all:

"'Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace,
And saw within the moonlight in his room,
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom.
An angel writing in a book of geld.
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold:
And to the presence in the room he said:
What writest thou? The vision raised its head,
And with a look made all of sweet accord,
Answered: "The names of those who love the Lord."
"And is mine one?" said Abou. "Nay, not so,"
Replied the angel; Abou spoke more low,
But cheerlly still: "I pray thee then Write me as one that loves his fellow-men."
The angel wrote and vanished. The next night
It came again, with great awakening light,
And showed the names whom love of God had blessed.
And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest." 'Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increas so enormous, and is affecting so directly all the conditions of urban life, that we must assimilate these people by the most rapid methods. It is a mistake to consider their presence a menace. There ought to be in every public library in every city of any size at least the classics in several languages, to win the confidence of these people and to draw them to these libraries. Once there, they should find elementary text books in civics and other literature that will be helpful to them in their new relations, translated from English into their own language. In other words, securing them as patrons of the public library by their own classics, we should minister to their needs precisely as we minister to the needs of our own people. No such texts exist, even in English. It is this very point upon which discussion ought to turn-what this association may be able to accomplish
